CLAIM ILLEGAL FISHING.

Gloucester Men Said To Be Netting Smelt in Danvers River.

The Salem News says that for the last several days a party of fishermen, said to be from Gloucester, have been seining fish in Danvers river, between Danversport and Beverly bridge. They have a large power boat and three smaller boats of various kinds and they drag-net the river in a thorough manner, hauling in many barrels of fish of different kinds at every sweep. They are understood to be after herring, but it is alleged that they take everything that comes in, including large quantities of smelts, which are thus caught contrary to law. Complaint has been made to the state fish wardens and one of them came to town to make an investigation. If the fishermen are found to be doing anything illegal they will be brought to book.

BIG ADVANCE IN SALT COD.

Gorton-Pew Fisheries Co. Bought Three Fares Yesterday.

Salt bank cod took a rise yesterday afternoon that put even the last sales of dory handline fish in the shade, the fares of schs. Meteor, Madonna and Judique, about half a million pounds of salt cod in all, being bought by Gorton-Pew Fisheries Co. at $4 per hundred weight for large, $3 for mediums and $2 for snappers. The last previous sales of salt trawl bank was $3.50 for large and $2.37 1-2 for mediums, so the advance is a marked one and shows that salt bank cod are wanted.

DOGFISH RENDERING PLANTS.

Favored by Fishermen's Union of British Provinces.

The Fishermen's Union of the British maritime provinces now in session at Halifax have adopted a set of resolutions at its session in which it goes on record as favoring logfish reduction plants, a proposition that has been agitated in this country for some time. They believe that the establishment of these reduction plants would greatly aid them in their fishing operation.

Dogfish Are Bothering.

The market fishermen report dogfish very numerous on the fishing grounds and for that reason they have made light catches. The schooner Louise C. Cabral, which arrived yesterday at T wharf had sixteen tubs of trawls destroyed in one set by the dogfish.

PLENTY OF MACKEREL.

Capt. Joseph Graham Reports Fish Off Halfway Rock.

Burst Pollock Seine After Getting Around a Big Raft.

A special dispatch to the Times from J. L. Stanley & Sons of Manset, Me., this noon confirms the story published exclusively in the first edition of the Times, regarding the catch of large fresh mackerel by sch. Evelyn L. Smith, Capt. Joseph Graham.

The dispatch says there were 18 barrels of large fish in the lot and they were sold fresh to J. L. Stanley & Sons at 25 cents each. Capt. Graham reports plenty of mackerel off Mount Desert Rock and he burst his pollock seine which he had around one large school, nearly all of the fish escaping.

The Smith went out of here some little time ago bound pollock seining, and carried a regular pollock seine. This was evidently all the seine she had when she found the mackerel schools, and had her seine no burst Capt. Graham and his crew would have undoubtedly made a whole season's work at the one haul.

Little Craft Are Still Doing Good Work Off Here.

The little sch. Freedom is at T wharf, Boston, this morning with 2200 fresh mackerel and sch. Mary Emerson is also there with 4000 fresh mackerel. Some of these little seiners are doing well, the crew of the Freedom sharing $90 each last week.

Large schools of fish are reported to have been sighted off Herring Cove and in that vicinity. No large catches have been reported in the nets, but the hand line fishermen did well, five boat loads being taken by Herring Cove fishermen. A Fish Story.

A remarkable example of the voracity of a trout, accompanied by fatal results, has just come to light. A young man employed at Mr. Sargent's mill at Tipton, St. John, on the river Otter, noticed a fine trout lying dead in the mill leat. He got the fish out and was astonished to find that tightly twisted in the most extraordinary fashion into the trout's gills was an eel, which had undoubtedly strangled its captor. But this was not all. Firmly stuck in the mouth of the eel was a little fish, probably a stickleback, which, being too big for the eel to swallow, had caused its death also. All three fish were very recently dead, and it was quite clear that the eel, which was a foot long, had attempted to swallow the stickleback, but had only succeeded in getting its head far enough down to choke itself. The trout, no doubt, seeing the eel in difficulties, had attacked it and attempted to swallow it, with the result that his slippery, writhing victim had managed to choke him by entangling itself up in a wonderful way in its captor's gills. Thus the little stickleback choked the eel, which in its turn strangled the trout.—London Telegraph.
